Source offers the following explanation of the chart on the preceding page:

- a. Troop sections submit their requests to the Division for War Orders. The latter coordinates the individual requests and forwards them to the military representative at each factory, presumably after obtaining the consent of, or at least informing, the city representative of the GSOVvG in the city concerned.
- b. The military representatives at the plants supervise production of the various orders; they must also procure the necessary materials through the city representative of GSOVvG.
- c. Finished orders are shipped to the Central Camp at Brandenburg. The Division for War Orders is charged with registration of deliveries, conclusion of factory contracts, and the issuance of permits to draw supplies. These permits allow troop sections to requisition finished products from the Central Camp at Brandenburg.
